List of Pump-Out Stations in British Columbia

Please do your part to keep our waterways clean.

Boat operators must discharge marine sewage appropriately. If you have any questions about the location or the facility listed in this document, please call before you visit.

(This document is available in French upon request)

How to manage your marine sewage:

- OPTION 1: Use a MARINE SANITATION DEVICE, or discharge 3 nautical miles from shore
- OPTION 2: Use a HOLDING TANK and PUMP-OUT STATION
- OPTION 3: Use a TEMPORARY STORAGE like a porta-potty

There are restrictions against discharging marine sewage into the waters of British Columbia. Marine sewage pollution can harm the environment, marine life, and human health. It may result in closures to shellfish farms, beaches and swimming areas. You cannot discharge untreated sewage in rivers or lakes, and any coastal water within 3 nautical miles from shore.
